Japan History by Rail – Small Group Tour

Apr 02 2022 to Apr 11 2022

Explore Japan’s History by Rail in a small group tour

Odyssey offers easy, convenient, and relaxed escorted small group tours across Japan and beyond. We explore Japan’s natural and metropolitan beauty and Imperial heritage, its World Heritage Sites, and world famous cities, all with some truly spectacular scenery along the way. This and more is all waiting to be explored on one of Odyssey’s small group tours of Japan, designed for the senior traveller, and led by experienced, and enthusiastic like minded people

Join Odyssey Traveller's Japan History by Rail small group tour as we cross the country on the world-renowned Japanese railway system to explore several destinations in Japan.

We will travel on the shinkansen—Japan's high-speed trains or "bullet trains"—an efficient, safe, and comfortable railway system used to travel between Japan's cities. Japan's trains depart and arrive to the second, allowing us to maximise our time in the capital.

On this tour, we will stay close to Tokyo's Shinjuku East area, just minutes from the subway stations. We will visit the Imperial Palace, residence of the Japanese Emperor and Empress, surrounded by a beautiful water-filled moat and tree-covered grounds.

After that brief but precious taste of nature within the bustling metropolitan city, we will visit the breathtaking Mt. Fuji and the Tokyo gardens of Koishikawa Korakuen, which incorporates both Japanese and Chinese design; Shinjuku Gyoen, originally a residence of the feudal lord Naito and his family during the Edo Period; and Hama Rikyu, a traditionally styled garden in the middle of the city.

We will also visit Nikko in the forests northwest of Tokyo, where several generations of shoguns, including Tokugawa Ieyasu, were enshrined; and Shimoda, the port city where Commodore Matthew Perry docked and forcibly opened Japan to Western trade.

We then take the Nozomi Shinkansen for a scenic, 140-minute ride to the ancient imperial capital of Kyoto and Hiroshima, a major urban centre in the 1870s during Japan's imperial period, and a city destroyed in an instant in August 1945 with the dropping of the atomic bomb during World War II. Hiroshima made an impressive recovery after the war, and is now home to more than two million people.

The Imperial Palace, where their Majesties the Emperor and Empress reside, is situated in the centre of Tokyo. The palace is surrounded by a water-filled moat and tree-covered grounds – a precious taste of nature within the bustling metropolitan city. A specialist guide leads our tour of one of the highest achievements of Japanese culture: its gardens. We visit the ancient garden of Koishikawa Korakuen, Shinjuku Gyoen and Kyu-Hamarikyu-teien, helping us to understand Japanese philosophy.

Koishikawa Korakuen Garden- The construction of this park was started in 1629 by Mr. Yorifusa Mito, the Daimyo (Japanese feudal lord) of Mito Tokugawa family, and was completed by his successor, Mr. Mitsukuni Mito, a very famous Daimyo in the early Edo period. Mitsukuni adopted an opinion of a Chinese scholar and named this garden “Koraku-en” (Koraku means “enjoying afterwards”) after a Chinese teaching of “a governor should worry before people and enjoy after people”. This garden is full of Chinese flavour under the influence of Mitsukuni. Korakuen was appointed as the Special Place of scenic beauty and the Special Historic Site based on the Cultural Properties Protection Law of Japan. All through Japan, there are only seven premises which enjoy double appointments by this Law. They are Kinkakuji, Ginkakuji, Sampo-in of Dogoji all in Kyoto, the trace of Nibon-miya in the third line of Heijyokyou left city in Nara, Isukushima shrine in Hiroshima and Hamarikyuu and Korakuen in Tokyo.

Lunch at the garden’s rest area, Kanttokutei. (traditional Japanese lunch)

Shinjuku Gyoen-South of the downtown area around the East Exit is Shinjuku-gyoen National Garden, completed in 1906, it features European gardens designed by a French engineer. This garden park surrounds you in luscious greenery and exudes serenity, completely secluded from the hustle and bustle of metropolitan Tokyo. It is renowned as the best site in the city for viewing flowers and wild birds.

Hamarikyu Garden-Hamarikyu, is a large, attractive landscape garden in central Tokyo. Located alongside Tokyo Bay, Hama Rikyu features seawater ponds which change level with the tides, and a teahouse on an island where visitors can rest and enjoy the scenery. The traditionally styled garden stands in stark contrast to the skyscrapers of the adjacent Shiodome district.

Day 5

Locations: Nikko

Overview:

Breakfast at your leisure. Please make your own breakfast at your apartments.

Discovery of the holy site of Nikko, in the forests northwest of Tokyo. The first shrine was established in the 8th century. Several generations of Shoguns were enshrined here, including Tokugawa Ieyasu. We also visit the Imperial Villa where emperor Hiro Hito resided during the firebombing of Tokyo.

Nikko lies at the foot of Mt. Nyoho-san in the western part of Tochigi and it has developed as the temple town of Futara-san-jinja Shrine, Toshogu Shrine and Rin-no-ji Temple. These temples are recognized as a UNESCO world heritage site. There runs the Nikko-Suginamiki-Kaido (Nikko's Japanese- cedar-lined Road), which is designated as a natural monument. And the city forms a part of the Nikko National Park.

Toshogu Shrine is where the famous Shogun of the Edo Period in the 17th century, Tokugawa Ieyasu, was worshiped after his death. It became as luxurious and elaborate as it looks today when the grandson of Ieyasu, the third Shogun Tokugawa Iemitsu, reconstructed it. The engravings on the Yomei-mon Gate are especially overwhelming, provided with every luxury imaginable and redolent in gorgeous colors. The engravings of the three monkeys in Shinkyu-sha and Nemuri-neko, the sleeping cat, are also well known.

The buildings in Mt. Nikko-san and the forest areas in the surroundings are registered as a World Cultural Heritage site and as a cultural property where nature and buildings are united.

Please note: Nikko is going through an extensive renovation until 2019. The gate is covered by scaffolding, but the shrine with its wealth of buildings and carvings is still worth a visit.

Day 6

Locations: Tokyo - Shimoda

Overview:

Breakfast at your leisure. Please make your own breakfast at your apartments.

We leave early to the far end of the beautiful and mountainous Izu peninsula. Our destination is the small town of Shimoda where in 1854 Commodore Perry forced Japan to open itself to foreign trade, thus ending 250 year of self imposed isolation. The local buddhist temple of Gyokusen-ji was vacated to serve as the first American Consulate in Japan. Overnight in Shimoda Bento box lunch in bullet train.

Shimoda is known as the port city that an American fleet known as Kurofune, the Black Ships, entered in the 19th century demanding the establishment of trade with Japan, which was then under the national isolation policy that cut off any type of exchange with foreign countries. Located in the city is Ryosen-ji Temple, where the then U.S.

Naval Officer Perry and Daigaku Hayashi, ambassador plenipotentiary, concluded the Treaty of Peace and Amity between the United States and the Empire of Japan (Kanagawa Treaty). A sketch of the treaty signing ceremony remains at the temple.

Lunch at local restaurant or bento box on bullet train

Kiyomizu Temple- Established in 778, this temple has continuously attracted worshippers from among the populace since the Heian Period as "Kiyomizu-Kannon." The temple contains buildings from the 15th to 17th centuries, including Jishu – jinja Shrine. The Main Hall (Hondo), built in the "stage" style, is noted for its beautiful background scenery which changes with the four seasons – including the cherry blossoms and greenery of spring, and the leaves of autumn. Built atop a precipice, the main hall, which is a National Treasure, is famous as the "Kiyomizu Stage" – affording a magnificent view of the city below. The temple precincts contain fifteen buildings designated as Important Cultural Properties, including the inner Temple (Okunoin), Amida Buddha Hall (Amidado), and the three-tiered pagoda.

Accommodation:

01 night at Tazuru in traditional Japanese rooms, or similar.

Day 9

Locations: Kyoto - Hiroshima

Overview:

In the morning we visit the Imperial Palace where the Emperors resided for centuries until the Imperial restoration in 1869, and the court was moved to Edo, nowadays Tokyo. We have some time to meditate overlooking the Ryoan-ji Zen rock garden.

We board the Shinkansen for a 2 hour ride to Hiroshima

Kyoto Imperial Palace- Gain exclusive access to the former residence of the Emperor of Japan, which oversaw many important functions until the capital was moved to Tokyo in 1869.

Ryoanji- This Zen temple was built in 1450 by Hosokawa Katsumoto, who had taken possession of a villa of Tokudaiji Temple. The karesansui (dry landscape) rock garden (designated as a special place of scenic beauty), which lies on the south side of the Hojo (quarters of the chief priest), is famous as "Tora-no-ko Watashi." The white sand rectangular garden, surrounded on three sides by an oil earthen wall, measures 25 meters east and west and more than 10 meters north and south. The garden comprises fifteen rocks in five groupings. The name of the artist who created the garden is unknown, though a number of theories exist as to his intent. The garden is famous an expression of symbolism, which reproduces nature.

Accommodation:

01 night at Oriental Hotel Hiroshima or similar.

Day 10

Locations: Hiroshima

Overview:

Hiroshima, a name heavy to bear. We are guided through the monuments reminding us the terrible destruction of conflict. Our expert explains why Japan entered the war and how they lost, paying a high price.

Hiroshima Peace Memorial Park

Hiroshima Peace Memorial Park is dedicated to the legacy of Hiroshima as the first city in the world to suffer a nuclear attack, and to the memories of the bomb's direct and indirect victims (of whom there may have been as many as 140,000). The location of Hiroshima Peace Memorial Park was once the city's busiest downtown commercial and residential district. The park was built on open field that was created by the explosion. Today there are a number of memorials and monuments, museums, and lecture halls, which draw over a million visitors annually. The purpose of the Peace Memorial Park is to not only memorialize the victims, but also to establish the memory of nuclear horrors and advocate world peace.

Genbaku Dome (A-Bomb Dome)

The A-Bomb Dome is the skeletal ruins of the former Industrial Promotion Hall. It is the building closest to the hypocentre of the nuclear bomb that remained at least partially standing. It was left how it was after the bombing in memory of the casualties. The A-Bomb Dome, to which a sense of sacredness and transcendence has been attributed, is situated in a distant ceremonial view that is visible from the Peace Memorial Park's central cenotaph. It is an officially designated site of memory for the nation's and humanity's collectively shared heritage of catastrophe. The A-Bomb Dome is on the UNESCO World Heritage List.

Peace Memorial Museum

The Hiroshima Peace Memorial Museum is the primary museum in the park dedicated to educating visitors about the bomb. The Museum has exhibits and information covering the build up to war, the role of Hiroshima in the war up to the bombing, and extensive information on the bombing and its effects, along with substantial memorabilia and pictures from the bombing. The building also has views of the Memorial Cenotaph, Peace Flame, and A-Bomb Dome.

Lunch at local restaurant.

Our tour concludes today upon completion of this tour.
