Loire Valley walking tours, France

The Loire Valley is one of France’s most popular tourist destinations. However, on this tour, you’ll have the chance to see rather more than the average tourist. The Loire river has long been an important trading route. As a result of this trade the valley is dotted with major settlements including Orleans, Blois, Tours and Angers. These historic towns are nestled in to a landscape of rolling vineyards, forests and hunting lodges.

On any of the Loire Valley walking tours, you'll have the chance to explore the countryside. As a small group you visit some of the more interesting chateaux. Some of the places visited include Chenonceau, and Chinon. There will also be time to wander through Medieval towns, such as Loches. Enjoy a wine tasting at the Chateau de la Viliane. The stretch of the valley that this tour follows between Sully-Sur-Loire and Angers has been designated as a World Heritage Site because of its 'outstanding cultural landscape". On this tour of the Loire valley, there is something for everyone.

Our Loire Valley walking tours begin in Orleans, just north of the river Loire. This small group of mature and senior walkers then travel west along the valley towards Angers and Saint-Florent le Vieil. Along the way we'll pass through Blois, Amboise, Tours and Saumur. There will also be time for a few interesting side trips to towns such as Loches and Chrissay-sur-Manse.

Typically each day this small group covers between 8 to 15 kilometres a day of walking. The duration of each day's walking is influenced by the weather, as well as the level of group fitness and the structured activities organised. For Odyssey Travellers Walking in France is about a journey that walks through time.
