mature-aged couple or solo traveller seeking to learn as they travel.

This small group tour of Myanmar is focused on a detailed study of the country's art and archaeology. The itinerary is designed to take you chronologically through Myanmar's history. There are also plenty of general sightseeing activities included to avoid 'pagoda fatigue', such as visits to local markets and villages as well as a boat trip up the Ayeyarwady River (Irrawaddy River).

Myanmar Art Tour Itinerary

Get a glimpse of the tour itinerary on this small group educational tour of Myanmar. It is a round tour starting and ending in Yangon. The days are reasonably paced to allow you time to learn and explore.

Yangon to Sri Ksetra

Our fully escorted tour commences in Yangon. A talk on Buddhism as practised in Myanmar sets the stage at the beginning of the tour. During your first few days on the tour, we have included visits to the Chauktatgyi and Ngadatgyi pagodas, the National Museum and the famous Shwedagon stupa.

Your tour also includes a day trip to the 14th-16th century capital, Bago, to see the giant reclining Buddha, the Kanbawzathadi Palace and the archaeology museum. From Yangon you travel to the first millennium Pyu city of Sri Ksetra, near Pyay. Sri Ksetra is one of the three ancient cities of the Pyu civilisation. This city is on UNESCO's World Heritage List. In Sri Ksetra you learn about Myanmar's ancient civilisations.

This section of the tour starts with a visit to the Sri Ksetra Museum. During your time in Sri Ksetra you explore this city by tuk tuk, taking in the ancient palace walls, stupas and burial sites. That evening you can watch the sunset at Pyay's beautiful Shwesandaw pagoda.

Sri Ksetra to Yangon

From Sri Ksetra you then continue to travel on to the 11th- to 13th-century capital of Bagan. There are over 3,000 monuments, including temples, stupas, and monasteries here. These 3,000 monuments are scattered over a vast plain, a fascinating sight to see. Over the next two days this small group tour visits the most interesting temples of Bagan. During your visit you will learn about Bagan's art, archaeology and its controversial restoration program. We'll also take in a lacquerware workshop and visit a local village practising traditional artisan skills.

From Bagan you travel to Mandalay to see some of the last temples and monasteries built under royal patronage before the demise of the monarchy in 1885. You also visit several workshops in the city, watching artisans creating marble Buddha images, casting statues in metal, weaving and woodcarving. In these workshops you will learn about the traditional techniques still in use today. On your return to Yangon you take a guided walk through old colonial Yangon with the Yangon Heritage Trust. You also have time to visit contemporary art galleries to take in Myanmar's exciting modern art scene.
