Tasmanian Wilderness | Summer School in Hobart, Tasmania

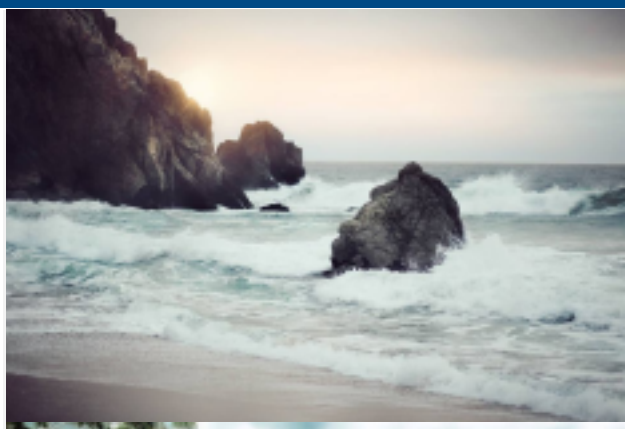

Tasmanian Wilderness Summer School

Tasmania Wilderness Summer School is a small group tour for seniors held each year in Hobart in early January. Designed for those who don't want hard hiking or an uncomfortable campsite, this summer school allows you to experience the great wilderness of Tasmania with an educational focus, while staying at a comfortable 'base camp' in a Hobart hotel.

The great advantage of this approach is that you will leave with a deep understanding of the Tasmanian environment while also witnessing some amazing natural wonders: we'll visit beautiful places such as the Huon Valley and Mt Nelson, not forgetting some of the wild areas on the very doorstep of Hobart. We travel each day to see a different aspect of the rich Tasmanian landscape. Days will be moderately long to cover the distances, but there will be opportunities for walking – easy or harder – at each destination. Regardless of whether you're an active walker or not, there will be something suited to your fitness level.

This summer school program is designed to deepen participants' understanding of Tasmania's wilderness, with a series of talks, guided walks, and nature expeditions.

Summer School classes for mature and senior travellers

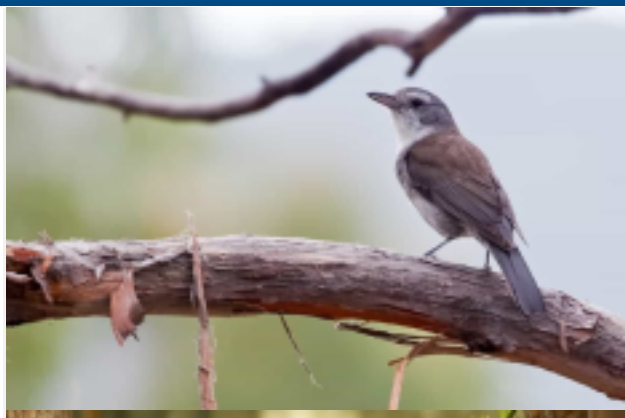

Odyssey offers a collection of week-long learning programs offered each January in Hobart, Tasmania. Courses are refreshed for each year's programs. Classes are limited to 12 people.
